

GIVING VALUE TO TYPICAL PRODUCTS, KNOWLEDGE AND FLAVOURS PATHS IN FRIULI VENEZIA GIULIA

PROVINCE/REGION: Friuli Venezia Giulia

 DURATA	 LOCATION	 PAX MIN-MAX	 TARGET
3 days	Udine province, several towns	8 – 15	Trainers, VET experts, teachers, guidance counselors, professionals working in public and private services

SUMMARY

Friuli Venezia Giulia offers a variety of sceneries and local specialties. An historical junction between the Austro-Hungarian tradition and the Adriatic Sea, it has always been a region where borders are not seen as a limit, but as an opportunity. Here taste and knowledge valorisation works in combination with artisanal passion for quality products.

The mobility project includes guided tours in businesses that have been able to interpret and enhance the territory.

The following subjects will be addressed:

- Local products and territory valorization;
- Norcineria (pork cured meats production) techniques and raw ham aging;
- Food certifications;
- Knowledge of accommodation services and valorization of local culture.

The aim is to create networks between businesses and education, fostering links with the economic and production excellences, to promote DES and offer young people guidance in their personal and professional choices.

WHERE WE ARE

The project's route will wind throughout Udine province, starting with the San Daniele del Friuli area, with a presentation of the local territory and the gastronomic specialties, such as the renowned San Daniele raw ham. The route continues with a visit in Sauris, located in the Carnia mountain region, with the magnificent Sauris lake. Sauris is a touristic destination both in summer and in winter, renowned also for the production of PGI Sauris ham and Zahre artisanal beer. The route concludes with the visit to the DCO Colli Orientali del Friuli (Friuli west hills) area, located in the north-east, along the border with Slovenia. It's an area characterized by millennial soil deposits, where marbles and sandstones form a rich substrate that contributes to the creation of excellent wines.
